Subtle Slight: Understanding the Impact of Unconscious Bias and Microaggressions

Monday, May 23
12:00 p.m. – 2:00 p.m.
222 IST Building

How do we handle the unspoken, often unrecognized "little things" that foster sentiments and attitudes of inequity and incivility? Microaggressions speak to the attitudes, dispositions, and comments that many times lead to the devaluing of members of a community. This session will focus on recognizing, validating, and ultimately managing the display and impact of microaggressions.

Objectives:
- Consider and understand the impact of personal perceptions and individual lenses.
- Define and identify types of microaggressions.
- Develop strategies and resources to remedy instances of potential or perceived incivility.

RSVP here by May 17th or copy this link into your browser:
http://goo.gl/forms/EhJegzOJCh

Please direct your questions to Jackie Gardner at 814.865.1831 or jkg10@psu.edu

Sponsored by:
College of Engineering Diversity Programming Committee