

New Course being Offered in Plant Science – FALL 2015

Genetics of Plant Metabolites: Plant & Human Health

The objective of this course is to provide students an interdisciplinary approach involving genetics, breeding, biochemistry and biotechnology to understand the biosynthesis and the role of plant metabolites in plant and human health

HORT 497 B

TR 9:45 to 11:00 AM

Drs. Lavanya Reddivari & Surinder Chopra