Rosemary Martinelli

Catherine Rios

“Humanities Works” is one of eight “nodes” in the Penn State C3N initiative. C3N - Commonwealth Campus Community Nodes showcases collaborative faculty research across the 21 campuses. “Humanities Works” focuses on addressing complex problems through the collective work of PSU humanities scholars, with a special emphasis on four key areas: lifelong learning, education and new knowledge, civic and community engagement, and industry and enterprise. What role should the humanities play in business success? The PIs for “Humanities Works” are sharing their work with the goal of seeking success stories from faculty in the business sector.
