distinguished designers design/think workshop

8:30am - 3:15pm

Penn State University Park Campus

Join colleagues from industry and academia in this exchange of ideas on design. This year's design gurus are Richard St. Clair (Head of Costume Design), Jason Winfield (Prop Master), and Jordan Cooper (Actress)—all from the Theatre Department at Penn State. We will learn from these design masters and practice what we learn through a design charrette. The day will conclude as our props take the stage at the Eisenhower Auditorium. This will be a great opportunity to engage with design in a new way.

Agenda

- 8:30 Continental breakfast with other participants at the Academic Activities Building on Penn State Campus (it says "TAPS" on the side)
- 8:45 Collaboration with Theatre colleagues
- 10:45 Board trolley to 304 Hammond
