Seraphic Connection

The interrelation of orange purple and translucent pink

Reveal the mysteries

Of the color-coded symphony

Heaven paints of its cryptic dreams.

The average person may never fathom what it means

But it screams...

Silently.

It's suffocating rapidly in the mind of a child the age of three.

I don't even know how this truth may be;

But the explosions stay in such harmony

With the sound waves and color schemes

As indigo and midnight green

Prance across the NYC skyline... to a raindrop beat

Asking:

Can your ears see?

And can your eyes hear heaven's beauty?
