Fall 2019: A New Residential Option at Penn State University Park

What? This living-learning community will promote a dynamic exchange of global and local perspectives at Penn State. Student residents will:

- Enjoy interactive, intercultural learning opportunities
- Form meaningful intercultural peer relationships, and
- Create global awareness service projects on campus and in the community

Where? Beaver Hall (75 beds)

When? Starting in Fall 2019

Who? International and domestic students who want to build intercultural relationships and a globally-minded culture at Penn State.

We ARE . . . a global community!

For more information, please contact Nikki Mattson at nla12@psu.edu.

PennState