

The Leonard Tow Humanism in Medicine Award For Medical School Faculty

Presented by: The Arnold P. Gold Foundation

This award is given to recognize and honor one faculty member who demonstrate both clinical excellence and outstanding compassion in the delivery of care and who show respect for patients, their families, and healthcare colleagues. This year, a monetary award and certificate of recognition will be presented to one M.D. or D.O. from each of a number of selected medical schools throughout the United States.

Use the following criteria to consider which MD or DO to nominate for this prestigious award:

- consistently demonstrates compassion and empathy in the delivery of care to patients
- serves as a role model - illustrates professional behavior by example
- approachable and accessible to students
- welcomes opportunities for teaching and one-on-one mentorships with students
- exhibits enthusiasm and skill in professional and personal interactions with students
- shows respect for everyone
- demonstrates cultural sensitivity in working with patients and family members of diverse backgrounds
- displays effective communication and listening skills
- understands patients' need for interpretation of complex medical diagnoses and treatments and makes an effort to ensure patient comprehension--shows respect for the patient's viewpoint sensitive to the patients' psychological well-being
- effectively identifies emotional concerns of patients and family members
- engenders trust and confidence
- adheres to professional and ethical standards
- committed to reflection and objective self-evaluation of his/her skills
- displays competence in scientific endeavor
