

DISCOVER THE GLOBAL HEALTH MINOR PROGRAM

INFORMATION SESSIONS

The Bennett Pierce Living Center, 110 Henderson Building

2018 Fall Semester

Thursday, October 11 at 6 p.m.
Thursday, November 8 at 6 p.m.
Thursday, November 29 at 6 p.m.
Monday, December 10 at 3 p.m.

2019 Spring Semester

Thursday, January 17 at 6 p.m.
Thursday, January 31 at 6 p.m.

Minor Goals and Activities

- Develop the capacity to think, talk, and write critically about global health issues and challenges.
- Complete a five-week supervised fieldwork experience in South Africa, Tanzania, or Ecuador.
- Prepare for occupations that demand global thinking, understanding and experience.

Eligibility

Global Health is a competitive minor, open to any Penn State student who is enrolled at the University Park campus and who has declared a major field of study.

Advising

After attending an information session, students who are interested in applying for the Global Health Minor should schedule an advising appointment to meet with the Global Health Minor Program Director, Dr. Dana Naughton. Thirty-minute advising sessions may be arranged by contacting the staff of the Department of Biobehavioral Health at 814-863-7256. Application materials will be provided to students at the time of meeting.

Applications are due February 15, 2019

hhd.psu.edu/global-health-minor

PennState
College of Health and Human Development

Global Health Minor
Biobehavioral Health

#PennStateGHM