Find Your Path

Student Engagement and Leadership (SEAL) bolsters students to connect, grow, and succeed outside of the classroom. We develop exciting programs, build strong leaders, mentor and recruit student employees and interns, and create educational, social, and cultural opportunities on and off campus.

Why Get Involved?

- ▶ meet other students
- ▶ attend events
- ▶ have fun
- ▶ tell your story
- ▶ discover who you are
- ▶ work on campus
- ▶ mentor others
- ▶ gain confidence
- ▶ become a leader
- ▶ serve the community
- ▶ build your resume
- ▶ network with faculty/staff

Orientation and Transition

Explore what it means to become a part of the Penn State Abington community through New Student Orientation (NSO). You'll learn about getting involved on campus and how to navigate college both inside and outside of the classroom. We are here to help you succeed!

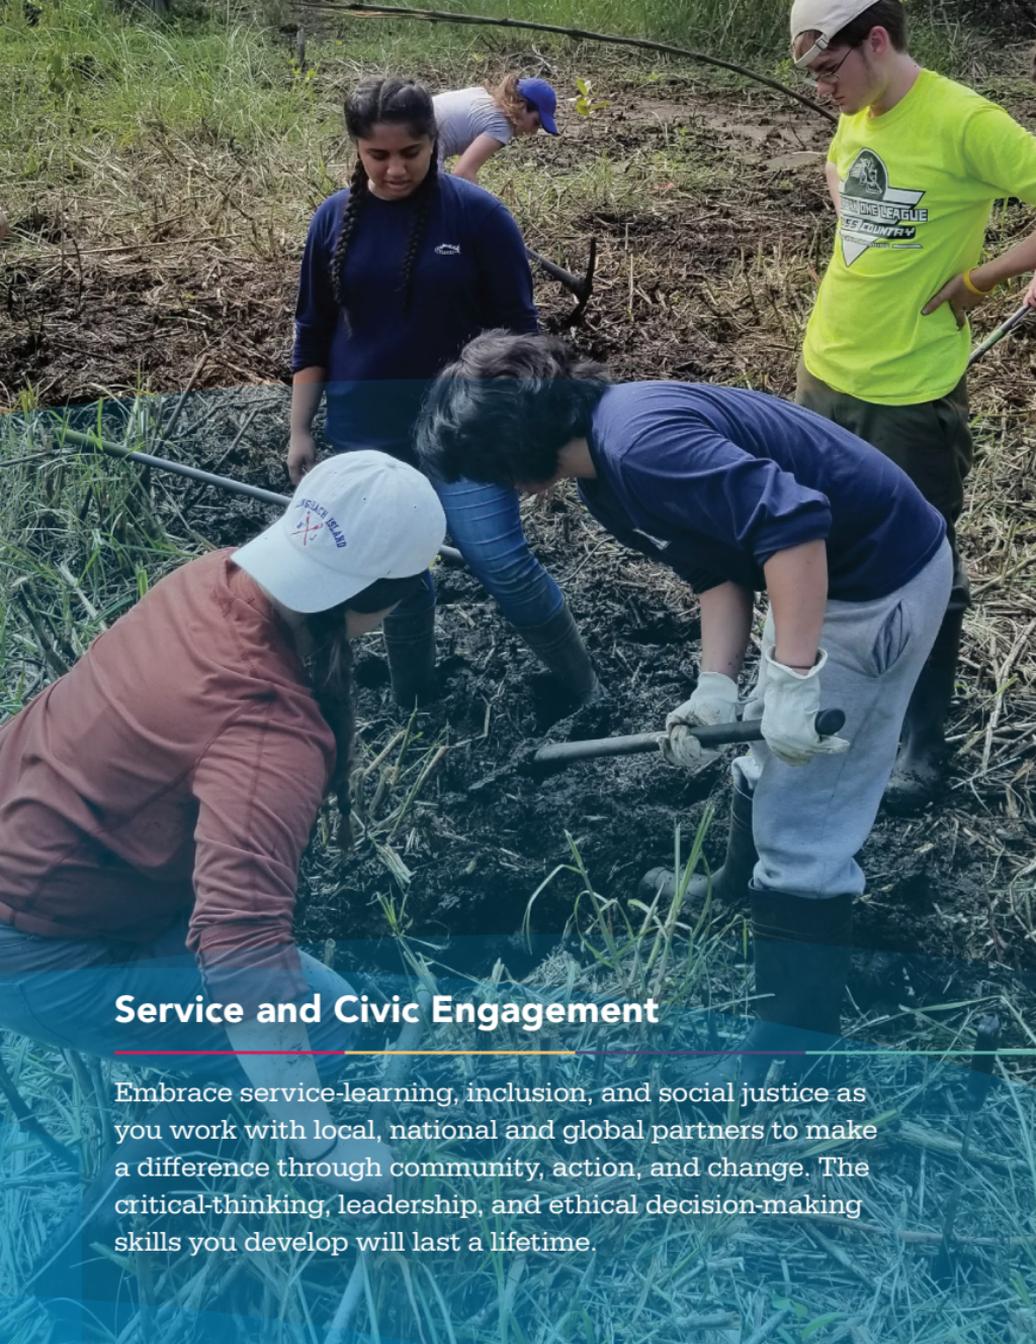

Student Organizations

Join the student organizations that interest you—or create your own! You'll meet new people; explore other cultures, traditions, and communities; plan and promote events; and learn to be a leader. You may even acquire a new hobby or skill, or discover a talent that you never knew you had!

A young man with dark hair, wearing a grey suit jacket, a light blue striped shirt, and a dark tie, is smiling and talking to another person whose back is to the camera. The man has a black backpack on. The background is blurred, showing other people in a social setting. A blue gradient overlay covers the bottom half of the image.

Leadership Development

Build your character, identify goals, embrace differences, empower others, manage conflict, and more! And through our dynamic leadership certificate program, you can craft your experience to gain effective leadership and critical-thinking skills for college and beyond.

Service and Civic Engagement

Embrace service-learning, inclusion, and social justice as you work with local, national and global partners to make a difference through community, action, and change. The critical-thinking, leadership, and ethical decision-making skills you develop will last a lifetime.
