

SPATIAL COGNITION

2018

September 05-08
Tübingen, Germany

Spatial Cognition is a transdisciplinary conference that brings together researchers working on a diverse set of topics using a plethora of methods addressing, for example, biologically inspired systems, spatial learning, communication, interaction, robotics, perception, or place.

Keynote Speakers

Nira Liberman

Tel Aviv University, Israel

Luc van Gool

ETH Zurich, Switzerland

William Warren

Brown University, Rhode Island, USA

Submission Deadlines

Full Papers:

March 1st, 2018

Notification for full papers:

May 4th, 2018

Posters (abstracts):

May 25th, 2018

- Oral and poster presentations
- Selective review process
- Single track
- One day of workshops, tutorials, and symposia
- Doctoral student session
- Accepted papers to be published in Springer Lecture Notes in Artificial Intelligence

<http://sites.psu.edu/sc2018>

General Chair:

Alexander Klippel

The Pennsylvania State University, USA

Program Chairs:

Sarah Creem-Regehr

The University of Utah, USA

Johannes Schöning

University of Bremen, Germany

Local Chairs:

Hanspeter Mallot

University of Tübingen, Germany

Heinrich Bülhoff

Marianne Strickrodt

Max Planck Institute for Biological Cybernetics,
Germany

Workshop and Tutorial Chair:

Heather Burte

Tufts University, USA

Doctoral Colloquium Chair:

Liz Chrastil

University of California, Santa Barbara, USA

Poster Chairs:

Bodo Winter

University of Birmingham, UK

Lace Padilla

University of Utah, USA

